Referring to an article in the NORTHERNER, in which Supervisor J. H. Johnson of South Haven was credited with great influence over the board in the matter of equalization, the Messenger says it is sorry Jim didn't get a chance to hypnotize the NORTHERNER man.

One of the Paw Paw parties of northern hunters sent home the following report early in the week: Will Bills, 2 deer; Frank Rawson, 2 deer; Wilcox, 3 deer; Rob Smith, 2 deer—to get. If all Van Buren county sportsmen do as well, lots of good venison will soon be in market.

There are two points in a man's dress that speak much for his taste and character—a stylish hat and a piece of neckwear faultlessly fresh and carefully tied. These two articles can be found at T. C. Tyner's, in connection with his large line of ready-made clothing, on which he is making a deep cut for the balance of the year.

Bass, the Decatur local option violator who is serving time in jail, was let out a few days since to do the chores at the sheriff's barn. He skipped, but was caught at Cassopolis, Saturday, and returned to jail.

Village Treasurer Bullard returned to the county treasurer $122 of uncollected taxes. Such returned taxes will now have to be paid at the office of the county treasurer. If not so paid, the lands against which the assessment was made will be advertised and sold. Somebody may be surprised one of these days at finding his property held by virtue of a tax title.

Mrs. Mary Jewett Telford, president of the W. C. T. U. of Colorado, made a short visit at the home of H. W. McCabe while on her way home from Baltimore. Blair matron of general hospital No. 8 at Nashville, Tenn., at which institution she first became acquainted with Mr. McCabe, while he was a patient there.

The ladies of the Coterie have decided to sell season tickets, good for the remaining three lectures of the course. The ladies, in response to the desire of our people, have arranged a course of four lectures at an expense of upwards of $300, and the sale of season tickets has not yet been sufficient to defray the expense. We believe all are interested in the success of the course, and that many will purchase tickets for the lectures yet to come at the very low price of 75 cents—25 cents for each evening's entertainment.

The November term of the circuit court will open next Monday, but jurors will not be in attendance until a week later. The calendar is light, containing but thirty-seven cases, as follows: 11 criminal cases, 14 issues of fact and 12 chancery cases. The criminal cases consists of one bastardy, one exposing poison, one obstructing railroad track, one burglary, three assaults and four violations of local option law. All of the latter class of cases are from South Haven. Five of the chancery suits are divorce cases and five are mortgage foreclosures.

"The Twentieth Century Woman," first of the Coterie course, was delivered at Longwell's opera house last Saturday evening, by John Temple Graves. A large audience assembled to hear the noted speaker, expecting an enjoyable and profitable evening, and they were not disappointed. Mr. Graves thinks woman has just fairly entered on the great work she is destined to accomplish for the advancement of the race. Two kinds of women, however, he does not like: those who wear bloomers and those who wear décolleté dresses. If any criticism were to be passed on the speaker, it would be that he had not yet got his discourse thoroughly committed to memory and had to refer too often to his manuscript.

The following additional licenses to hunt deer, making 69 in all, have been issued by the county clerk: Ira Hoard, B. W. Payne, H. M. Warner, Fred Warner, Irving Warner, Wilson Dell, N. Buskirk, J. C. Worthington, A. M. Worthington and Charles Kinser. The last three licenses were issued to South Haven parties, and when they arrived at the clerk's office not a single blank license remained. This necessitated the sending of a special messenger to Kalamazoo. Clerk Forbes kindly furnished the requisite blanks, and at a late hour in the evening the applicants were duly invested with legal authority to slay live deer apiece, provided they get an opportunity to do so.

The legislature at its last session settled the vexed question concerning compensation of county treasurers for tax certificates required to entitle deeds to registration. The fee is fixed at twenty-five cents for each certificate to be paid by the party obtaining the same. Under the law, as originally passed, county treasurers charged prices to suit themselves until the supreme court sat down on that practice, holding that no charge whatever could be legally made. Since that time, some treasurers have done the work without additional compensation, while in other counties the board of supervisors have appropriated money from the public funds in payment of such services. The law has now settled the matter so that there need be no further complication in regard to it. If a man wants a certificate, he pays for it, just as he pays for having his deed recorded.

At St. Mark's church, Monday morning at 9 o'clock, a select company witnessed the marriage of Miss Frances Elizabeth Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Thomas of this place, and Mr. Fred Bancroft Banks of Grand Rapids. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Bancroft of Hastings, uncle of the groom, and was a very pretty Episcopal service. The father of the bride gave her in marriage, after which the groom placed the dainty wedding ring on her finger. After the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents to an invited party. Mr. and Mrs. Banks left at 10:20 for Grand Rapids, where they will make their home. Paw Paw people have not the pleasure of acquaintance with the groom, but "Fannie" is a Paw Paw girl who has a host of friends here, and they all wish the newly wedded couple abundant prosperity and happiness.
